

EDUCATION

Epsom Girls Grammar School New Technology Building

This building is specifically designed to accommodate the new technology curriculum introduced by the Ministry of Education.

To further expand the challenges of this project, the building is designed to be completely flexible and expand in three different directions should the need arise.

Epsom Girls Grammar is situated on an already restricted site and the school will significantly swell it's student population in the near future.

This project has won two NZIA architectural awards.

Epsom Girls Grammar

technology

